

APPENDIX 46. A: Open Access in Clarivate Analytics Products

Adding citation analysis for articles in OA Gold publications is the major change to JCR™ 2020. Web Of Science and InCites provide data for all types of OA articles. This appendix illustrates the type of OA information available in different CA products. It includes Table 46.A. 1., the top OA journals in JCR by JIF™ and by citable articles and Table 46.A.2. ranking the top journals from Table 46.1. using data from InCites. JCR does not cover Arts & Humanities Citation Index or Emerging Sources Citation Index. Table 46.A.3 lists those tops in citable articles and OA articles, extracted from WOS

Defining open access in Web of Science and Journal Citation Reports

Web of Science			JCR
Gold	DOAJ Gold	Articles published in journals listed on the Directory of Open Access Journals (DOAJ).	Gold OA	In the JCR the "Gold OA" label shows papers published in a journal that are tagged as either "DOAJ Gold" or "Other Gold" in the Web of Science Core Collection over a period of 3 years – the data year of the JCR, and the two prior publication years.
	Other Gold	Other Gold open access articles are those identified as having a Creative Commons (CC) license by Our Research's Unpaywall Database but are not in journals listed on the DOAJ. Most of these articles are from hybrid journals. Hybrid open access journals are subscription journals that include some open access articles
Bronze	The licensing for these articles is either unclear or identified by Our Research's Unpaywall Database as non-CC license articles. These are free-to-read or Public Access articles located on a publisher's site.		Subscription and Free to Read	Articles identified as "Bronze" in Web of Science are labelled "Free to Read" in the JCR. "Bronze" is a relatively recent term, used by Our Research to describe content that is free to read on the publisher site, but is not published under a Creative Commons license. Papers that are categorized as "Green Published" and "Green Accepted" in Web of Science, are often subject to an embargo after initial publication and available to subscribers only for that time; these are included in the "Subscription and free to read" group.
Green	Green Published	Final published versions of articles hosted on an institutional or subject-based repository (e.g. an article out of its embargo period posted to PubMed Central).
	Green Accepted	Accepted manuscripts hosted on a repository. Content is peer reviewed and final, but may not have been through the publisher's copyediting or typesetting.

We use one Asia-Pac journal to differentiate the types of data available on JCR, WOS and InCites.

- JCR: Open access gold -Citations in 2019 for citable items published in 2017 – 2019
- WOS: Citable OA articles of all types; differentiate by type of OA; includes all full text articles available at the time of the search
- Incites: Spreadsheet display covering all types of OA articles for all journals with citable items, with both number and percent.

InCites Journals, Books, Conference Proceedings, using WOS Data

OA citable items from 2017-2018 that were cited in 2019 were extracted from WOS. InCites uses the same OA categories and data as WOS without the capability of matching to citations for a specific year and provides the data in a spreadsheet.

EXAMPLE: PLOS One Ranks over time

PLOS was a pioneer in Open Access and still leads in number of articles. Its performance in JIF however has dropped in the past 10 years.

Year	Total Articles	Citable articles	OA JIF Rank	JIF Rank
2019 – Total	1	3		3815
2019- OA	3	3	587
2010 – Total	1	1		711
2010 -OA	3	1	33

Journal Impact and Article Metrics

PLOS does not consider Impact Factor to be a reliable or useful metric to assess the performance of individual articles. PLOS supports DORA – the San Francisco Declaration on Research Assessment – and does not promote our journal Impact Factors. We will provide the metric to individuals when specifically requested.

JCR only identifies journals that are OA gold. The top journal by JIF is ranked 24 in JCR and the 10th is 193. The total number of citable items for these journals for 2017 and 2018 is 1054. The top ranked OA gold journal, based on citable items, is ranked 227. There are many Open Access articles in the top 20 JIF journals. Most are bronze and green. There is no guarantee that these articles will remain open and free to replicate in the future, they reflect the state of OA today. Table 46.A 1. lists the top 10 OA gold journals in JCR and the top 10 by citable items.

Users who do not have subscriptions to any CA products can use Master Journal List to identify journals that are in Arts & Humanities and Emerging Markets Citation Indexes. Open Access (DOAJ.org) information is provided in Master Journal List. Additional information is available on DOAJ and journal websites.

It will be interesting to see how all the articles on the Corona virus will impact the JIFs in 2021 and 2022 and the number of open access publications. Covid 19's current impact on publishing will be discussed in Part 2 of this article.
